
Todd Sagin, MD, JD

Chair

Todd Sagin, MD, JD, is a physician executive recognized across the nation for his work with hospital boards, medical staffs, and physician organizations. He is the national medical director of Sagin Healthcare Consulting, which provides guidance on a wide range of health care issues.

Dr. Sagin is a popular lecturer, consultant, mediator, and advisor to health care organizations. Over the past two decades he has worked with hundreds of the nation's hospitals to address a wide range of issues relating to the collaboration of physicians and health systems. Recently much of his work has focused on helping hospitals organize effective governance structures for their growing cadres of employed physicians.

Dr. Sagin is a regular faculty member for organizations such as The Governance Institute, the American College of Physician Executives, and the American College of Healthcare Executives. Dr. Sagin is board certified in family medicine and geriatrics. He has taught and practiced in both community hospital and university settings. He is the current medical director of the LifeGuard Program - a physician competency assessment organization which works on behalf of state medical boards and health care entities across the nation. Dr. Sagin has been active in organized medicine and served as a past president of the Pennsylvania Academy of Family Physicians. He is the current Chair and a longstanding board member of Volunteers in Medicine American and volunteers at Community Volunteers in Medicine in West Chester, PA.